5 Cities In-Home Psychotherapist Services

Jane A. Hill,
LCSW, MSW

For eleven years, I worked with seniors at all levels of care at San Joaquin Gardens in Fresno, California.

There I counseled residents and their families as they dealt with grief, had to move to a higher level of care, or when there were disagreements between residents and their families. I also led a group of residents with dementia.

I also taught a class called Growing Wiser, which addressed such issues as memory problems and death and dying. I also developed a Completion Ceremony that was held in the nursing home after residents passed away. The ceremony gave closure to staff who had become attached to their patients.

I have worked for both CSU Fresno and Cal Poly where I taught a semester-long class called Counseling the Older Adult. The class addressed the aging process, strategies to cope and get the most out of the senior years. And, it offered help for the caregiver.

I have led workshops on care for the caregiver and have worked as a medical social worker at Arroyo Grande Community Hospital and with many home health agencies, including Hospice.

I have a great deal of practice helping people deal with grief issues, depression and anxiety, couple and family issues, and care of the caregiver among others. I also have hands on experience with Critical Incident Briefings.
